MARCHAM PARISH COUNCIL NEWS
Planning Application – Development of Kings Field

The planning application P13/V0575/O for the erection of 48 dwellings and associated means of access, car parking, new footpath links, amenity space and landscaping on land off Sheepstead Road, north of Kings Avenue will be discussed at the Parish Council meeting to be held on Wednesday 8th May in the residents' lounge at Duffield Place at 7.30 p.m. There will be some time set aside for public participation, so if anyone wishes to address the Parish Council, then you are requested to give notice in advance by contacting the clerk. (email: clerk@marchamparishcouncil.gov.uk or tel: 391833 by 12.00 noon on Tuesday 7th May) This is in order to fairly share the time available and if necessary to encourage those with similar comments to appoint a spokesperson.

Recycling Banks Howard Cornish Road

Last month it was reported that the recycling banks in Howard Cornish Road are regularly overflowing and have general waste, including trade waste, left around them. The problem is not only experienced in Marcham but at other recycling areas in the district as well. The sites have become a magnet for fly tippers, and they quickly become an eyesore. When fly tipping takes place the recycling in the bins become contaminated meaning it all goes into landfill. The Vale of White Horse District Council is inviting comments on the suggestion that the banks should be removed, as there is no reason why the recycling banks should need to be used. Any excess recycling that does not fit into your green wheeled bin can be placed in a clear bag or open box, next to the bin on the usual collection day. Comments on the proposal to remove the recycling banks can be sent to waste.team@southandvale.gov.uk The deadline for comments is 3rd May.

Vale of White Horse District Council –

Taxi tariffs

The District Council is encouraging residents to have their say on how carriage taxi pricing is set, with one lucky resident winning a £50 High Street shopping voucher. For further information visit www.whitehorsedc.gov.uk where the details are on the home page.

Weed Spraying

The spraying of the footways will take place in May. Access to kerb edges will be required, so it would be helpful if residents would bear this in mind when parking their vehicles in the day time. If there is any obstruction to the road edges and kerbs, then areas earmarked for weed spraying will be missed.

Local Government Boundary Commission - Vale of White Horse District Council wards

The Local Government Boundary Commission has completed its electoral review of the area and confirmed that the Vale of White Horse District Council will have 38 councillors from the next elections in May 2015. The aim of the review was to recommend ward boundaries that ensured that each councillor represented approximately the same number of residents. The recommendation is to essentially leave Marcham ward as it is at the moment, as a one member ward. It will have similar boundaries as at present, other than minor changes in the Cothill Road area where some houses in St. Helen Without parish are included in a ward with the rest of Dry Sandford.

Best Kept Garden Competition

As a reminder the Council is organising a best kept garden competition this year.

Judging for this year's competition will take place during the early part of June. This will be front gardens only. Final round judging will take place during July. Please remember the competition when planning and planting your gardening this month.

Planning Applications recently considered by the Parish Council

P13/V0313/HH Single storey extension to garage and kitchen, 5 Orchard Way. The Council had no objections.

MARCHAM PLAYERS

Exciting news about a former "Player". On Monday 20th May a small group from The Players will be travelling to the Theatre Royal in Haymarket, London to watch a performance of the West End Hit Comedy "One Man, Two Guvnors". The main reason for this is to support ex Marcham Player, Max Hutchinson, who has been understudying the role of Stanley Stubbers, one of the Two Guvnors, since January and who will be making his full West End debut in that role on 18th and 20th May. Max first appeared in a Marcham Players production some nine years ago in the Institute and recently toured for ten months with The Agatha Christie Theatre Company in a production of Murder on the Nile before joining the National Theatre production of One Man Two Guvnors in January 2013. Anyone interested in joining the Marcham Players please ring either Dave Hutchinson on 01865 391964 or Cheryll Sewell on 01865 391200.

ED VAIZEY WRITES...

One of the issues that concerns many constituents is the local postal service, and the wish to preserve the service that we have. Getting the post out to all the residents in our very rural constituency is no mean feat, as I see for myself every Christmas when I visit sorting offices to thank the post teams who do all the work. At the moment, one particular small but important issue is being considered - protecting rural post boxes. Ofcom have set out proposals that would protect post boxes in our villages by tightening the criteria which oblige the Royal Mail to ensure that there is a post box within reasonable reach of people in all but the most isolated places. This won't mean more post boxes being installed, but it should prevent any more being removed. I think that is much to be encouraged!

As an MP I am often alerted to opportunities that I think may benefit constituents, and two have recently come my way. Firstly, if you are working on a community project, do have a look at the People's Millions website. There's an application form there which allows local community-based projects to bid for up to £50,000. Past successes have included a training service for blind people and a cyber café run by disadvantaged young people, as well as a project that built a new toilet and washbasin area for young people in a memorial hall. There's clearly all sorts of ways such funding could be used, and with the wealth of community projects and activities across the constituency, I am sure that we have some great ideas that could be put forward. The deadline is 13th May, so please don't delay.

Small businesses are vital to our economy, and they too need some help from time to time. One particular problem can be late payments – when larger organisations take far too long to pay smaller suppliers. The Federation of Private Business has let me know about their website www.fpb.org/page/531/Late_payment_Hall_of_Shame_.htm which shows details of companies that really ought to behave better than the do in this respect. It is not a website where anyone can post unproven allegations, but does allow small businesses to report late payers. If the behavior is shown to be bad then details will be posted on the website by the Federation. I'd very much hope that no businesses in the constituency either need to be reported or have to report others, but if the reasons are there, then the website will be a very useful tool.

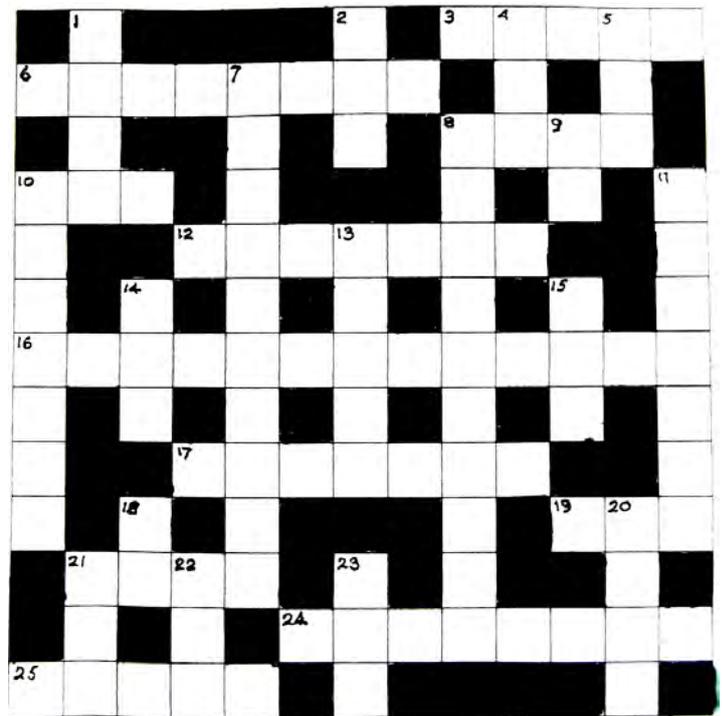

This month I've received a great many emails about the protection of bees in the UK. The decline of bees around the world is a real problem and one that I looked into and raised myself during the last Parliament. In response to recent concerns about pesticides my colleague in the Department for the Environment and Rural Affairs, Lord de Mauley, has written a detailed letter about the work being done in the UK to safeguard bees and the scientific evidence that has been investigated with regards to the harm caused by neonicotinoids and other pesticides. Other campaigns that I have seen in my mailbox include support for the British Red Cross' campaign "Pupil, citizen, lifesaver", which seeks humanitarian and first aid education in the classroom, and also support for this Government's commitment to spend 0.7 per cent of our gross national income on development and aid spending abroad.

MARCHAM SOCIETY'S APRIL MEETING

On 9 April, the Marcham Society enjoyed a talk by Bob Harris on the early life of Lord Nuffield (William Morris). Bob was well qualified to do this, having started work at Morris's as an apprentice in 1954, staying for 30 years and taking a history degree on his retirement.

William Morris was born in Worcestershire in 1877, but the family moved back to Oxford when he was still a child. At the age of 16, with £4 capital, he set up a bicycle repair business at the family home in James Street. By 1913 he had set up a factory production line in Hollow Way and launched the first Morris Oxford at £170. After the war the production line was extended and 55,000 cars were produced in 1925. Unemployed men came from northern England and South Wales to work at the factory, sometimes walking all the way. Morris kept production going during the Depression by reducing the price of his cars and took a great interest in the welfare of his employees

One of Morris's earliest customers was Dr Osler, Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford; this began a link which still benefits many people today.

Morris's generosity enabled the Wingfield Hospital in Headington (now the Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre) to be upgraded for the treatment of sick children. Having suffered a bad reaction to an anaesthetic himself, he persuaded the medical establishment in Oxford to allow a Chair of Anaesthetics, the first in the world. He gave £2 million for the funding of this, plus Chairs in Surgery, Clinical Medicine and Obstetrics & Gynaecology. This greatly helped Oxford become the centre of medical excellence it is today. He was made a Viscount in 1938 and took the title Nuffield from the village near Henley where he lived.

The village working towards community facilities for Marcham

For information on this project see the JUPG article on p.5.

The JUPG (Joint Users Planning Group) is the organisation representing village groups that was set up last September. MCG is a member, and is working with the other groups to create a feasible plan for community facilities in Marcham.

MCG AGM

MCG's first AGM was held on 24 April last year. The committee has decided that future AGMs should be in September and as we are allowed up to eighteen months between AGMs, provided one is held every year, the change can be made this year.

The 2013 AGM will be held in mid-September.

Fundraising – a thank you

We would like to express our gratitude to Ian Smith, Rob Hall and Joe Featherstone who organised a Bridge Day at Wootton on April 12th which raised over £810 for MCG.

We also send our thanks to Jane Jack, Alan Cattell, Sheila Dunford, Joey Maclean, Marge Hall and Susie Smith who provided a roast lunch for the 60 bridge players, and to Denise Asher who master-minded the raffle.

Dear Marcham Community Group,

The Marcham Moldova Lifeline was most grateful to be one of the beneficiaries of last year's Great Marcham Jubilee Weekend. Thanks to the hard work of the organisers, and the generosity of everyone who participated in that memorable weekend, a fantastic sum of money went out to Moldova to provide food parcels. These helped 100 elderly and disabled people get through the winter. We have since heard how amazed the recipients were that people in England would help them in this way. The picture shows the distribution of the food parcels. So, on their behalf, a very big thank you to the Great Marcham Jubilee Weekend!

NEWS FROM MARCHAM SCHOOL

by The Kangaroos

The children in Kangaroo Class have been using some exciting vocabulary in their writing. Here are some of the poems they have written about the sea. Some of these were read and performed at 'With Great Pleasure' organised by the Marcham Players.

The Sea Chloe Nicol Year 3

When I was little,
I noticed the waves looked like white horses
Galloping and tossing their manes.
And though I am older now
I still notice them riding the waves.
And when I am older still,
I only sometimes notice them
Rampage in and out of the waves.
And now I am very old,
I don't go to see them anymore
But I sometimes look out the window
And see them.
They make me remember
Those happy memories by the sea.

The Sea Dylan Faulkner Year 2

The sea is shiny blue like the glass I gave to you.
The sea swirls down to shore,
When it reaches shore,
It breaths for all the hard work it did.

Is that the sea right over there?
Oh yes, it is the shiny blue plane.
The wrinkles sparkle like sun on sea.
'Splish splosh,' said the sea to me.

I know why it called me now
Because it was hot like a boiling pot.
So now I know what a sight the sea is.
So don't tell me I already know

When I heard the sea Hannah Garside Year 2

When I heard the sea it was loud and crashy
Waves banging together.
Up the shore they scramble,
Up the sand, up the rocks
Back down to the sea for a night's rest.

The Sea Lara Withers Year 2

The swirly scary sea,
The sea that goes rushing down to the shore.
The sea that goes wild when it's angry
The roaring sea as well
It's as swirly as tornadoes
The sea that's windy going round and round
The glamorous sea.

Until I saw the sea Milly Gillett Year 2

Until I saw the sea,
I did not know
That the sea
Could be so beautiful when it splashes.

I never knew
That the waves
Could be so powerful.
Nor did I know before,
That the waves could be so foamy and rough.

At the Sea Samuel Bateman Year 3

At sea a wonderful wave came to the shore.
And it was as loud as a thunder storm coming to crash.
The wave was huge,
People called it smashing sea
It was amazing because the wave repeated again, again and again.
A wave came to the shore,
The wave was a huge twisting wave,
The wave was coming to shore.
Then a bigger wave was coming
It was the most dangerous one in England.

We were delighted to be asked to take part in the Marcham Players' 'With Great Pleasure on 26th March. A selection of pupils – aged from 5 to 11 performed their writings (in one case from memory)' or read poems based on the theme All around the World.

The children read clearly and with confidence and showed just how proud they were of their work and their performances. The whole evening was a relaxed but sincere appreciation of literature and was one of which we were thrilled to be a part.

I feel sure that this event will not be the only one of its kind: I suspect we have some budding Marcham Players for the future...

This month the Little Angels have been busy looking at the topic of Transport, the Angels have made their own train and ticket office, followed by cars, police cars and fire engines. this was followed with looking at air transport of hot air balloons and planes etc., finishing off with water transport of boats, yachts and steamers. Our Angels have also been enjoying the walks around the village, the babies have been enjoying their new four-seated pushchair and the older Angels have spent time at the post office where the children were given a look at how the post office operated and how parcels and letters are weighed. Thanks you to the local post office for their patience and understanding when talking to our Angels.

The after school club have also been busy and when they finished school early on Thursday afternoon for Easter we had a great afternoon with Easter egg hunts, Easter nests and craft activities finishing off with our Football session with Serious 4 Sport. The after school returned after the Easter Holidays to a spring day at last, the after school Big Angels spent time on the field [playing badminton, football and then we had a game of rounders which was great fun, including a picnic on the field,

We would just like to say a Big Thank You to our anonymous supporters for toys and outdoor equipment that is often left in our garden or by our door, We really appreciate the support from the village and please be reassured that your donations of toys and equipment are put to good use, many thanks from the Little Angels. We all get one life to live and deep down, we probably all have asked the question - "What's it all about?" It's a huge question, yet it would be so easy to miss the answer.

Have you ever had the experience of walking through Oxford city and being offered a leaflet? Maybe you ignore it, or take it and then ignore it because you just don't think it will do you any good.

There was a survey conducted by a London newspaper, which employed a man to stand near Oxford Circus tube station, offering leaflets to passers-by. On the leaflet was an offer of a free £5 note. All they had to do was bring the leaflet back to the man and he would give them the cash. Despite hundreds of people being offered the leaflet, in the space of three hours only eleven people took it and came back for the free £5 note!!

All the others had already made up their mind that the leaflet would do them no good. They either couldn't be bothered to take it, didn't read it, or if they did read it, simply could not believe what they were reading.

The offer that Jesus makes is worth far more than a £5 note. He offers to make sense of life in a way that no-one else can. Now that's a big claim to make but if there's a chance that it could be real, isn't it worth finding out yourself, for the sake of you and your family?

There are many people of all ages and from all walks of life who have discovered that Jesus does indeed make sense of life. Why not check it out for yourself? Join us on

All Saints' and St. Luke's Parish Page

Dear Friends,

At last it would appear that spring has arrived! Fresh colour all around us, and the joy of feeling warmer, I love this time of year.

I am always on the lookout for the first swallows 'coming home' at the beginning of this month, and wonder at their amazing ability to migrate all the way from Africa on such tiny wings. Their chattering call is a joy to my heart - something that goes back to my childhood, when we used to have swallows nesting around our house.

The Bible informs us that God cares for even the most common of birds. Jesus goes on to say how much more our Heavenly Father cares for us - that even the very hairs on our heads are numbered. It is a genuine source of wonder and joy that we can know such care from God himself. That whatever life throws at us, God's care is a constant. Psalm 23, the great shepherd psalm, speaks of God's goodness and unfailing love 'pursuing us' all the days of our lives! Perhaps we need to let Him catch us up!

May we ponder this amazing love of God again and realise that God longs to be our personal shepherd. Let's place our hands in his, in trust and with confidence, trusting his love in Jesus, and welcoming his presence into our lives. Peace and joy, and a deep sense of 'coming home' are frequently the result.

With my warmest greetings
